A ROCKIN' WRANGLER — Mark Van Alstyne of the Rockin' Wranglers will take to the stage at Sprockets Fun Foundry in Keystone Friday, Nov. 29 at 5:30 p.m. Mark started playing acoustic guitar at age 14. He then fell in love with electric guitar and started playing clubs around the area when he was 17, and hit the road at 19, playing lead, rhythm, and singing in two different hard rock/top 40 rock bands in a seven-state area for about five years before returning to get a computer science degree at Black Hills State. He's had a career in IT ever since, mostly in Montana, and has enjoyed playing music part-time throughout the years, including a 40s-90s variety band, a cowboy musical theatre show, leading church bands for nearly 20 years with his wife, Jill (who plays piano), a 6-piece classic rock/blues band for 10 years, and in a duo covering some of his favorite singer/songwriters.
